SAID AND DONE

MUSKEGON SENIOR
HIGH SCHOOL
1946

MUSKEGON, MICHIGAN

Foreword

Strengthened by the knowledge we have gained in the four years of our high school education and in the years that went before, we are prepared to face life. Some of us will go on to college, and some will be claimed by the armed forces. Still others will go into business and industry. But all will be the future citizens of the world. Our ideals and aspirations will influence future world events. We will make the most of our opportunities for this is our day.

Dedication

To Robert D. Ferris, with affection and gratitude do we dedicate this annual. As assistant principal, "Uncle Bob" as he is known by most pupils, has the unpleasant role of disciplinarian. For this reason, he does not always receive the full cooperation of less thoughtful students; however anyone who has worked with him in any capacity will testify to his friendliness, generosity, and fairness.

Mr. Ferris has never been too busy to contribute his time and effort unstintingly for the success of any school organization or project. As he is called upon so frequently to give his attention to countless activities, this means that a great deal of his effort is devoted to the enjoyment of the entire school.

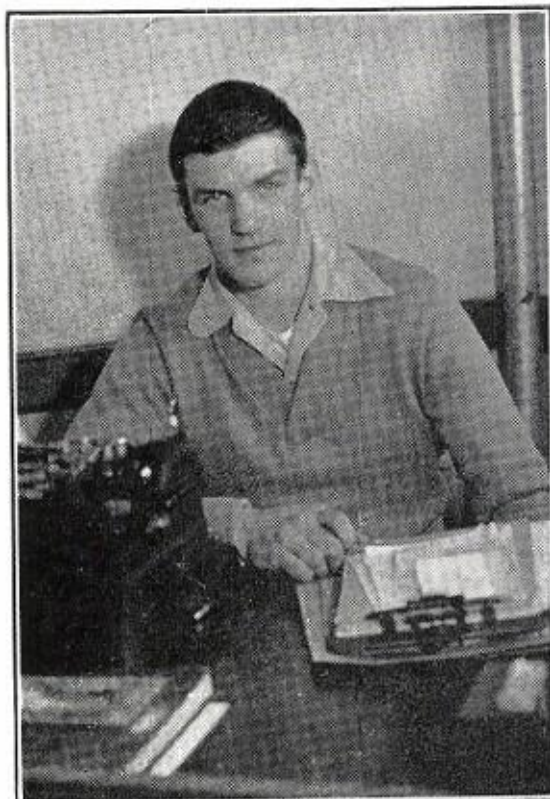

As if these previously mentioned tasks were not enough Mr. Ferris has written an unbelievable number of letters to former Muskegon Senior High students in the Armed Forces. All of these students will agree with the present enrollment that Mr. Ferris is more than deserving of this tribute.

ROBERT D. FERRIS

Road at Dawn

IT seems a long time; but it's really not so long ago that we started out, very much puzzled and innocently perplexed, in the dawn of our school days, knowing only that we were to go to school for twelve long years. Now, as we stand in the twilight of those rapidly passing years, we face another dawn, equally as puzzling and far more complex than that earlier one.

We have come far; being well along the road of education, of learning life. The general trends of our lives are quite firmly fixed. Like a sign at the crossroads, these inclinations point in that direction which our educators, our teachers, by their never-ceasing efforts have determined shall be ours. Through their guidance we have prepared ourselves to overcome the obstacles, to attain and partake of the success and happiness in life, that will be found along this road. To those who have taught us, who have pointed the way; to our high school which has been unconsciously and unavoidably endeared to us through countless hours well spent, we must, in happiness touched with reluctance, bid farewell.

As for our friends, our own classmates who have shared in common the studies and books, the athletics and playing fields, and the many happy times in congregation; we need but call them together, not bid them goodbye. For together and not apart will we exist as citizens of our nation. Of course, we are taking individual by-paths; some to higher, advanced education, others to soon take up in varied occupations, all to learn more of life on the road of living. However, as the army gathers its forces for the march, may we, with a spirit of pioneering unity in this new, uncertain dawning, move forward on that road to find "what lies on the other side of the hill" of Our Day.

Our Class Gold Star

Darwin Morgan killed in action over Germany. Lacked six months of graduation in Muskegon, but completed his work in California, awarded the Purple Heart and Air Medal.

Our Day

Now it has come.
The day we have so long awaited
So eagerly anticipated—
Our graduation day.

We look behind
And view the failures and the joys
We shared as younger girls and boys
In carefree childhood days.

We look ahead.
The future that we all must face
Must find us each one in his place
To give us peaceful days.

We now look up.
"O give us strength to stand the test.
Help everyone to do his best
Through all our coming day."
—Christina Marie Nelson

Journey Ahead

Words and phrases can never express
The sentiments and sorrows we all possess,
As the time draws nigh for us to depart
From this pillar of learning with its great heart
Of warmth, gaiety, laughter and cheer,
That is loved by us all as a memory dear.

Yet, pondering it over; our thoughts awakened
As when dull, glowing coals are suddenly shaken;
That this should not be a time of deep sadness,
But rather should be of a quiet, sweet gladness,
For the world is before us, yet to explore,
And we have a whole lifetime to canvas it o'er.

Let us enter our professions, whatever they be,
With a will unequalled and a spirit free;
And even though we do not achieve fame,
Let us say we have tried again and again,
For the journey's not finished, it has only begun,
And it will never be finished until we have won.

Miss Dorothy VanderKolk, one of our Senior Class advisors, has been a mathematics teacher seventeen years. She is also the Student Council advisor. Miss VanderKolk helped supervise the ticket sales for the Senior Play, the senior announcements, and calling cards, and other senior committees. This is the second time she has been a Senior Class advisor.

They Have Advised Us

Mr. Claire C. Cook, the other of the two Senior Class advisors, has been in this school eighteen years. We know him as an excellent physics and advanced mathematics teacher. Among his duties as class advisor, Mr. Cook supervised finances of the class, publicity for the Senior Play, the caps and gowns Committee, and many other senior committees. As he had been a class advisor before, the work was not new to him.

WIND

As a breeze I swirl in a happy dance
Around the maypole of spring; and Whip the wrinkled brown skinned
Leaves of yesterfall into frenzied
Spasms of delight. Joy unbounded
Issues from their raspy lips, as They revel in their escape from Winter's manacles of snow.

Gale-like I force my way across
The meadows, conquering the cyclopians
Oaks, liking to Polyphemus and Ulysses in time, long past. Flinging
My arms about the hills, I tear
Off the tops and scatter them
Above the vales. I, the shifting Unconquerable wind.

TIME, WIND, RAIN

The wind whistled eerie among the trees
While eagle like raindrops swooped down.
They dove from the brightest of morning tide,
Till evening donned an ermine black gown.
Leaves grew heavy and branches swayed far.
Still raindrops careened on past.
The leaves came down like brigantine sails
While trees creaked and bent like the mast.
The claws of the raindrops grasped the ground
Like the clutch of a miser's hand,
But quickly and surely they were devoured
In unquenchable thirst by the land.
The free bouting rain and the dusty ground
Have time near unending to fight.
They'll go till the spring of time runs down,
And the earth is but flame in the night.

SKIES

Grey skies dismally looking Down, soberly following your Everystep, reflecting their gloom
On your rain-drenched face.
Brassy skies, glaring from above
Like a great brazen eye, pouring
Its murky light over the Earth, preparing for holocaust.
Burning skies, trusting their fiery
Way through cottony puffs of Clouds, floating softly, with the Lazy impervious way of a dream.
Indigo skies, casting a soft unearthly
Glow. Forming deep pools of shadow
That fall like melodies on the Luscious green blades of grass.
Golden skies, shedding a mellow
Flame, that imparts a warmth to Every life, and flows into the Very heart and thoughts of a man.

Winter Midnight

Written upon returning from a midnight walk on the shore of Lake Michigan—January 14, 1946.

Listen — the dull, monotonous roar of the pounding waves
Beckons to you
Come down to the winter shore at midnight;
When the chill atmosphere is calm and still Save the quiet, incessant surge of the sounding surf
Against the low, implacable hills of ice
Stretching along the shoreline.
On the indistinct horizon
Where the moon-silvered sea fades into the dark
Of a sky dotted by stars of cold crystal blue;
Faint wisps of clouds
Float across the face of an oval moon
So close against the midnight blue
As to be touched by your gloved finger.
Yes—come down to the winter beach at midnight;
Here to find what you live for and long for.
Here you are free.
This is also free.
Partake with the blood-tingling surge of youth
Swelling beneath the warmth of your coat
Powerful and more rapid than the slow swell
 of the pounding surf
As you look out across a fringe of white ice
And scan the majestic expanse of sea
Calling you to her side;
Your beloved, your refuge—the mighty sea.

Art Class

SCHOOL PAGE EDITORS

Each year a senior member of the Journalism Class is chosen to edit the material, gathered by student reporters and later appearing each Wednesday on school page of the Muskegon Chronicle.

This project has been a feature of the publications department for sixteen years.

Russell Hendricks acted as editor the first semester and Natalie Haverkate the second.

These three have had most to do with the editing of this annual. Peggy Voegler was the choice of the class for 12A annual editor. It is largely due to her intelligent interest and fine executive ability that this, the forty-third annual, has come to be.

Paula Haga has edited the monthly issue of the magazine and acted as 12B annual editor. Miss Eddy is faculty editorial adviser.

Red and White View Seniors

Viewing the graduating seniors from their favorite look-out station, Red and White have both decided that it "doesn't pay to be ignorant." However, Red thinks that those who did make it don't look exactly hilarious either. Whether it's because they're leaving "good ol' M.H.S." or whether they're just a little bit lerey of making their way in the world, Red isn't certain. But he's seen more than one future genius gulp in what he believed was seclusion.

When our two little furry friends were asked to voice their opinion on this year's crop, I'm sorry to say they became slightly self conscious, and scampered away chattering in a very excited manner. Judging from their actions, however, they just don't understand how "it" happened. Of course it might have been just to relieve the faculty nervous strain.

We'll all have to agree with Red and White on one matter, though; It's been a pretty hectic year.

We won't soon forget the day Don Gustafson gave up being a woman hater, and decided that the wiles of women were too much for him. Red says if you take a look at Corrine, you can't blame the poor guy for his change of heart.

Remember the Masque play? "Spring Green" was funny enough, but Harold B. brought the house down when he played Romeo in a pair of split pants. (anything for the sake of art!)

And White says he has forgiven but not forgotten the kid with the sleeper's complex who always had his siesta under White's favorite tree for hoarding nuts. Sundberg might have been an addition to the collection, but he was definitely of the wrong species.

But probably the pet peeve of our little pets is the senior who will be missed the most by the students. And the main reason for Red and White's objection to this member of M.H.S. is that he is continually stealing the show from them. In fact he rules the campus, from the supervision of raising the flag in the morning to the dictation of the actions of Fred. Yes, although we'll really miss him, Red and White will be infinitely pleased when Count graduates.

G. I. Joe

There is a guy named G. I. Joe,
Whom I believe you all should know.
If it wasn't for him and all he's done,
This terrible war would not have been won.

On the seventh of December of '41,
The Japs came over with planes and guns.
A surprise attack this was indeed,
So Uncle Sam called the men he would need.
He fought for their country and gave all he had,
This war is no fun, but gloomy and sad.
Some fell where they fought on foreign lands,

And at home their parents for them did yearn.

But peace was declared and the war was won,
For G. I. Joe had the Japs on the run.
The good news was there and ready to bring.
And now the church bells could stand out and ring.

The discharge of boys was soon on its way.
And they could come home for more than a day.

This is the time for the whole U. S. A.
To help get the veterans back on his way.

Muskegon High School band ended one of its fullest years since the beginning of the war. Now that travel restrictions have been lifted, the band has once more been able to "hit the road" and follow the team. With the usual colorful showing at the football games, the annual winter band contest, the extra outside jobs played for different factories, the parades, and the continuation of the district and state band contests, and the Holland tulip festival. It all adds up to a very full year.

The band, under the direction of Mr. William Stewart, Jr., began the first game of football season with a full show, in spite of the fact that the first game was only two weeks after school started and many new members had to be broken into the marching routine.

At the next game between Muskegon and Grand Haven, the band presented the "Ragtime Wedding". They formed a huge lighted church, complete with a stained glass window, and the wedding took place inside. The bride and groom attended by a full wedding party, were married to the music of the band and a comic dialogue. The band followed the team to Benton Harbor, and sharing the half-time with the Benton Harbor band, again presented the Ragtime Wedding to the Benton Harbor crowd, where it was received with much enthusiasm.

On Oct. 26, when Muskegon played Grand Rapids Creston, due to the wet field condition, the band formed in front of the stands, and tried a community sing, which went over big with the adult members of the audience.

One of its longest shows was presented at the G. R. Ottawa Hills game. They formed HI G.I. to welcome the returning vets., DEC. 7 commemorating Pearl Harbor, MAY 7 the surrender of Germany, AUG. 12, the end of complete hostilities with Japan, and YANK with a huge service flag below and a large lighted gold star in the center, honoring the Muskegon war dead.

Soon after this game, the band received an invitation to put on a half time show at the Michigan State college game between Michigan and Missouri Universities. The Ottawa Hills show was repeated and amazed the college fans by the snap and precision.

At the Nov. 9 show, we shared the half time honors with the Kalamazoo band and presented the treble clef sign, playing "Say it with Music" and formed a huge Christmas tree and played "White Christmas". During this game the band added another first to its list, by changing the color of their lights between maneuvers.

On Nov. 17 came the long awaited Heights-Muskegon game. The band was ready and presented a very novel show. They formed a large radio cabinet and had a huge tuning dial, complete with tuning and volume buttons, placed on the field in the cabinet. The head majorette turned on the radio, adjusted the volume, and tuned in various stations. The band played a different type of number for each station including two singing commercials, and as the dial showed WKBZ gave the score of the Muskegon-Heights game at at half-time.

This ended football season and the band changed over to concert music. They played one more bond parade for the Continental Motors Corp., marching from the armory, down Western Ave., to the plant where they played a concert for the workers during their lunch hour.

Next came the district band contest in Grand Rapids in which the band took a first division in class A, and prepared for the coming state contest in Lansing. Between the two contests they played their annual Winter Concert, which filled the auditorium with more than a capacity crowd. The concert was one that most every one could enjoy and included both light and classical numbers with a few marches mixed in.

On April 13 the group went to Lansing to the State Band contest where the band, playing the class A required number, Debonnaire, by Liedzen, the Overture "Richard III" by German, and competing in the sight reading contest, took a 2nd division in class A.

At Holland on May 16, the group took part in the Annual Tulip Festival. This marching contest was resumed after being banned because of gas rationing and travel restrictions brought on by the war. It is a very colorful display, starting with a massed band parade through Holland, and followed competitive marching in different classes on the drill field.

Our band belongs right at the head of the list of Michigan's high school bands, and the organization is a standing tribute to the fine work of Mr. William L. Stewart, Jr. and his staff.

The first division rating earned by the Muskegon Senior High school orchestra, at the state final contest in East Lansing April 13, topped off the most successful year since the start of the war.

At Christmas time, the orchestra presented a eight holiday program over W K B Z, "Christmas Fantastic", and "Prayer" from Hansel and Gretel, were two of the numbers presented.

Next came the Masque play "Spring Green", with the orchestra playing beforehand and between acts.

The Exchange Club asked for a popular concert at the Occidental hotel. "Stardust", and "The Man I Love", were two of the numbers played.

Kiwanis Club of Muskegon sponsored the Midwinter Pop Concert, February 20. "Slovakian Rhapsody", a classic, and "Selections from Showboat", a popular piece, were examples of the versatility of this group.

March 16, was the district Instrumental Music Festival in Grand Rapids, where the orchestra came out with a first division rating enabling them to enter the state contest.

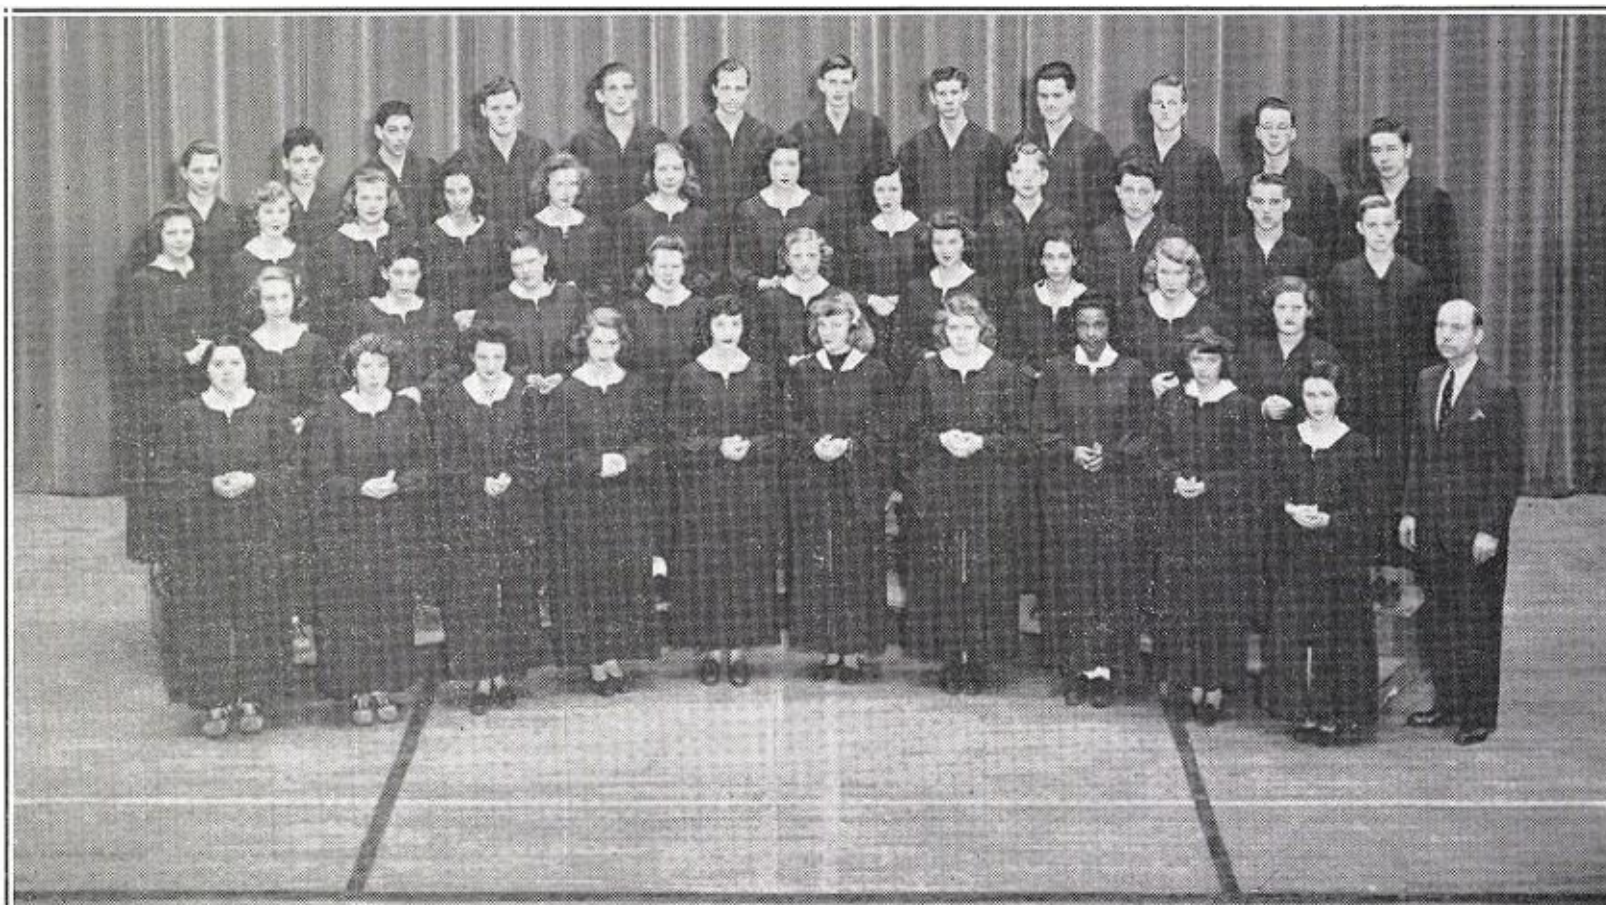

Mrs. Verna Luther of the Woman's Club, former teacher of Muskegon Senior High school, asked the orchestra to give a program for the inauguration of new members.

Kiwanis Club sponsored a radio program over W K B Z for the orchestra before the state contest playing the prepared numbers.

On April 13, in East Lansing, the orchestra gained the honor of being the best Class A high school orchestra in the state.

They also played for the Senior play "Harriet", April 25 and 26.

The orchestra closed a very successful year with the May Festival, May 17, orchestra and junior high night.

Conservation Club

To date the Conservation Club has had as their biggest project the planting of 150,000 trees on the 240 acres poorly suited to agriculture but adaptable to reforestation.

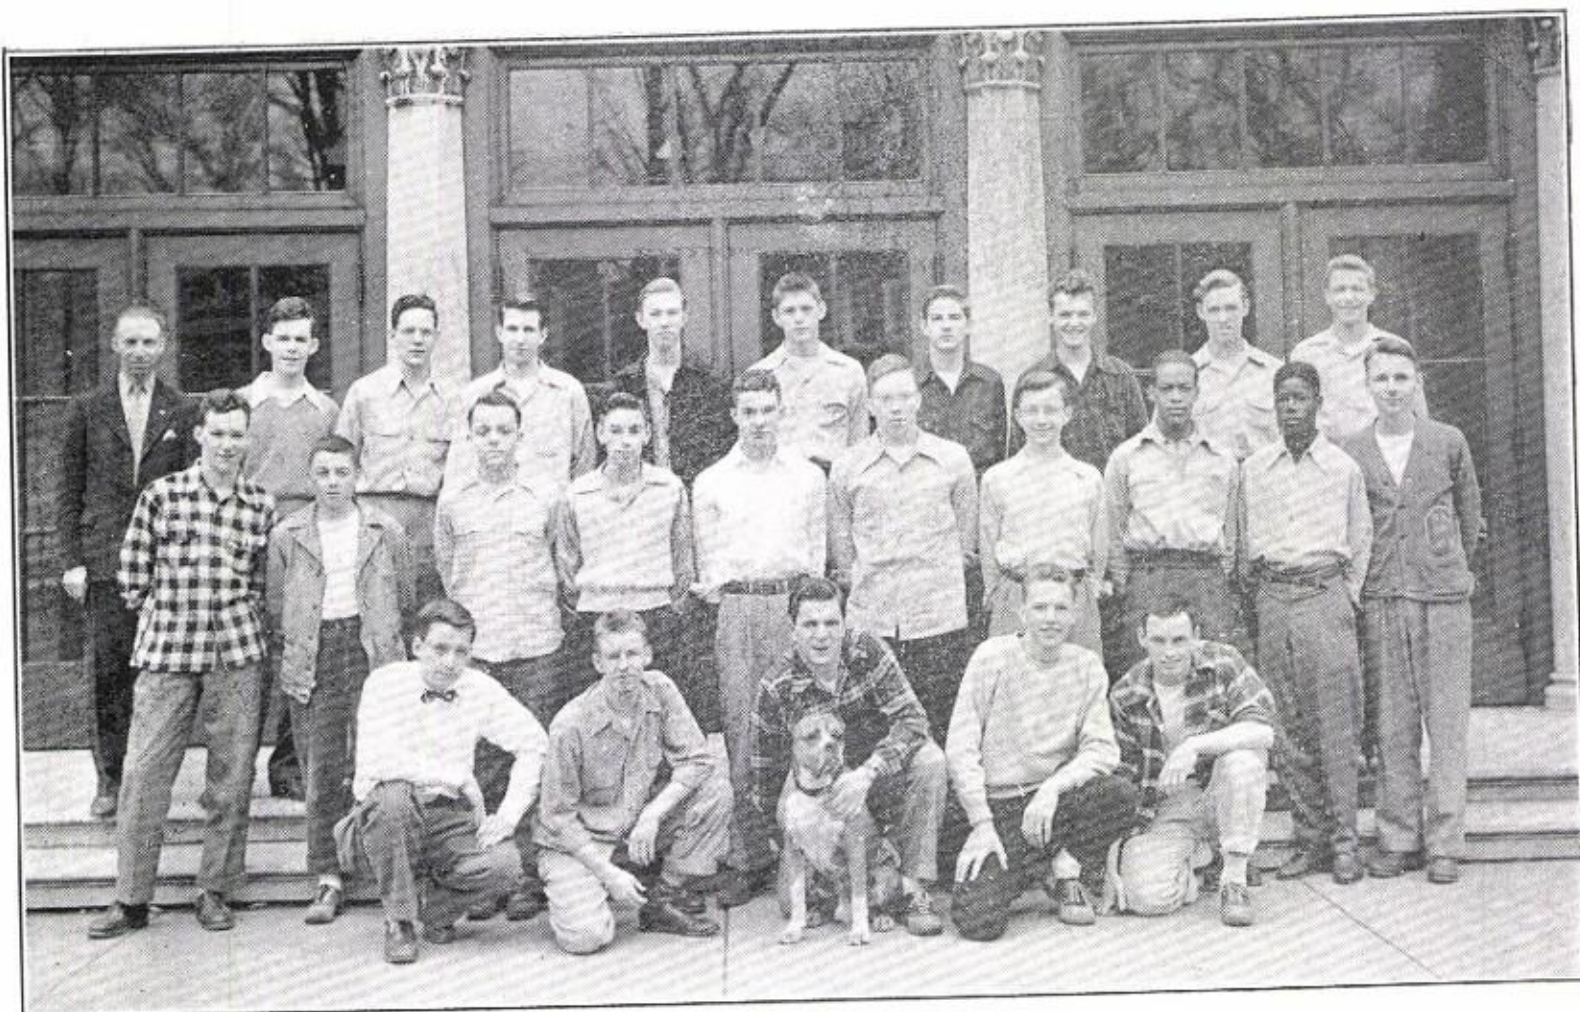

Planting trees is not the only aim of the club. Fire lanes have been maintained, covers for game have been constructed and a well sunk. The club hopes to construct a log cabin clubhouse overlooking the creek. A huge amphitheater in the center of the 200 acres reclaimed is also desired. The land and growth surrounding it, make an ideal location for such a theater. The creek is also going to be restocked with trout, and it will furnish a good fishing site for Muskegon's anglers.

During football season from 1,000 to 3,000 hotdogs were prepared each week by volunteer workers for sale at the stadium. Funds so earned helped to finance club activities. There were some 70 volunteers for fire-fighting squads organized in response to the call from county officials. Very successful Conservation stamp sales were handled in Senior High and grade schools. As a further money-making project the club sold tickets for the Rotary International lecture course. Proceeds from sales went to the high school group. The Atomic Ball sponsored by the group added substantially to the club funds. A portion of this was given to the fund for the memorial plaque. Appropriate club pins were adopted for the first time this year.

Pleasure and educational profit were combined in various boat and bicycle excursions, and regular sleigh ride, beach party meetings arranged for club members. Members will long remember the pancakes and coffee prepared by Mr. Ferris and Mr. Manning. Much credit for the success of a very full and varied year's program should go to Fred Wilder, president for three successive semesters. The county conservation department has cooperated splendidly in providing transportation, loaning equipment and generally advising activities. Miss Fuller and Miss Vandegrift rate high in fine adult sportsmanship and counsel.

Splendid organization, co-operation, and wise direction have achieved an enviable record of achievement for the year.

The Big Reds had an excellent record last season winning eight games and losing one. This one was the heartbreaker against the Heights, which was lost 7 to 6. Leading scorer of this was speedy Ted Barrett who scored 97 of the team's points. The Captain was our All-State guard, Bob Clark. Seniors on the first squad include Jack Younts, end; Don Arneberg, center; and Bob McNitt half back. The team was runner-up for State championship and also for Southwest conference championship. Basketball Squad

Muskegon's basketball team, after a slow start, really came back fast and late in the season to be one of the best teams in the state. Leading scorer for the team was guard Bill Pedler, who has another year. Seniors on the team were Captain Jack Lorenz and Forward Gerald Dobberstein. Fred Kalsbeck, tall center, and Bill Keiffer, forward, completed the quintet and are both juniors. The team had some tough breaks at first but came back hard and fighting to win seven of their last eight scheduled games. The scores for the year are:

Track Begins

Track is off to an early start due to the nice warm March weather. Coach Redmond has forty boys working out on Hackley Field. Lettermen from last year's team include Ben DeVette, high and low hurdles, who last year won the State Class A low hurdles; Ted Barrett, dash and broadjump; Ed Bell, hurdles and high jump; Bill Quail, dashes; Lloyd TerBerg, mile; Don Arneberg, shot put; and John Dolislager, high jump. The team will compete against Holland and the Heights in dual meets and enter the Regionals and State finals. Several other events are also listed including the state indoor and the Temple Cup meets.

Life Saving

My Thrilling Moment

I'm sure you've gone fishing. Just about everyone has. But have you ever gone trout fishing?

If you have, you'll understand all this but if you haven't I'd like to tell you about one of the greatest sports I know.

I awoke about 4:30 in the morning and, after eating breakfast, I drove to Cleveland Creek. Then started the fun. Just as the sun rose out of the east I put on my hip boots and fixed my pole, prior to the big task at hand.

After all was in readiness I began to wade into the stream. It is difficult to explain the sensation of the water swirling around your legs and still not getting you wet. Then I found the hole I was looking for. Perfect for trout. The current swirled under the embankment among a bunch of tangled roots. The trout like roots for protection. I tossed my fly down by the hole and tried to make it seem alive. Suddenly I felt my pole jump, and I knew I had hooked my trout. Now I had to be careful, just easing him up. Then when he was close enough I hoisted him out of the water into my landing net. I then put him into my creel which, when filled with damp grass, doesn't make the fish smell up.

After catching him, I moved to the shore and laid him upon it. I had caught, for myself, a nine-inch rainbow trout, and I think I was the happiest fellow in the world.

I took him home and, like all proud fishermen, I had him stuffed and put on the mantle for everyone to see.

The most wonderful part about trout fishing, though, is not catching the fish. It's getting up early in the morning, driving out to be alone with mother nature who, at this time of the year is at her prettiest, and while wading around in the beautiful brook you can breathe the fresh air, and then you get the feeling that life is wonderful and you want to live.

To HAZEL GUDELSKY goes the unique distinction of being the first girl in the history of our high school to win the coveted 3-star M as a Junior. Some 8 or 9 girls have won this award in their Senior year but no junior has ever accumulated enough honor points to win it until Hazel achieved that honor. She has been actively interested in and associated with G.A.A. ever since 7th grade, serving as G.A.A. president while in Junior High School and acting on the G.A.A. Board of Directors in Senior High as well as many committees. Although there were no more honor points for her to win, she has been out for every sport this year, playing on the hockey, basketball, volleyball, and baseball teams and bowling regularly every week. A special award is being given her for her outstanding sportsmanship and general athletic ability.

Basketball

November 20, approximately 40 girls turned out for the first basketball practice under the direction of Miss Marcia Snow. Two tournaments were played. The first was intra-mural, the second was played between classes. Team four, of the intra-mural league won, with Kay Kimball as their captain. The team consisted of: Dora Ann White, Arla Bergman, Arlene Tillema, Beverly Peterson, Pearl Hazelbrook, Betty Knapp, and MyraBelle Roberts. In the class tournament the seniors walked away with top honors. Phylliss Potter was their captain, and members of her team were the following: Hazel Gudelsky, Donna Hilton, Ruth Hoekenga, Kay Graves, Lavenne Blanchette, Kay Kimball, Barbara Buitendorp, Helen Dykstra, and Caryl Radel. After these two tournaments, were over, 13 girls were selected for an All Star team. These girls played two games with girls from the Heights. They lost the first game, but staged a good comeback to win the second. The players from Muskegon were: Kathleen Springsdorf, Donna Hilton,

Volleyball

Miss Ernestine Emboden was advisor for the girls volleyball teams this year. The seniors had one team captained by Kathleen Springsdorf, juniors three, captained by Phylliss Bell, Betty Jackson, and Joann Vanderwerp. The sophomores have two teams captained by Louise Johnson and Jane Danielson. The freshmen who came out for volleyball for the first time had three teams led by Altha Dobberstein, Ruth McDonald, and Mary Schrier. Seniors participating in the volleyball tournament were: Kay Kimball, Phylliss Potter, Kathleen Dawson, Hazel Gudelsky, LaVonne Blanchette, Kay Graves, Donna Hilton, Barbara Buitendorp, Nancy Smith, Lorraine Erickson, Helen Dykstra and the captain.

Hockey

The first of the girl's sports got underway October 10. It was one of the most exciting tournaments of the season. The seniors won first place, sophomores second, juniors third, and the freshmen fourth. The senior girls were captained by Lorraine Erickson. Members of the team were: Kay Kimball, Shirley Cone, Hazel Gudelsky, Lavonne Blanchette, Dora Ann White, Caryl Radel, Barbara Buitendorp, Mary Stiener, and Helen Dykstra. Captains of the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors were respectively: Julia Bozas, Ruth Anderson, and Betty Karkeet. Miss Harriett Reid was the advisor.

Baseball Tennis Golf

As this article is being written these sports have not begun, but plans are being made for them. Baseball, as usual will be played as a Round-Robin tournament and games will be held at either Wilson field or Park Avenue playgrounds.

Tennis games will probably be played at the Park Avenue tennis courts again this year. Golf will be offered this year if enough girls are interested and transportation can be secured.

Swimming

Swimming classes were started at the Y.M.C.A. with Miss Betty Brown as instructor. Junior and senior life saving badges were won by several of the girls. Girls that reported either Fridays or on Wednesday were: Irma Briggs, Sally Collinge, Beverly Carlson, Lorraine Erickson, Demaris Fuller, Kay Graves, Laura Holthe, Beverly Howard, Kay Kimball, Betty Karkeet, Caryl Radel, Doris Snyder, Pat O'Connor.

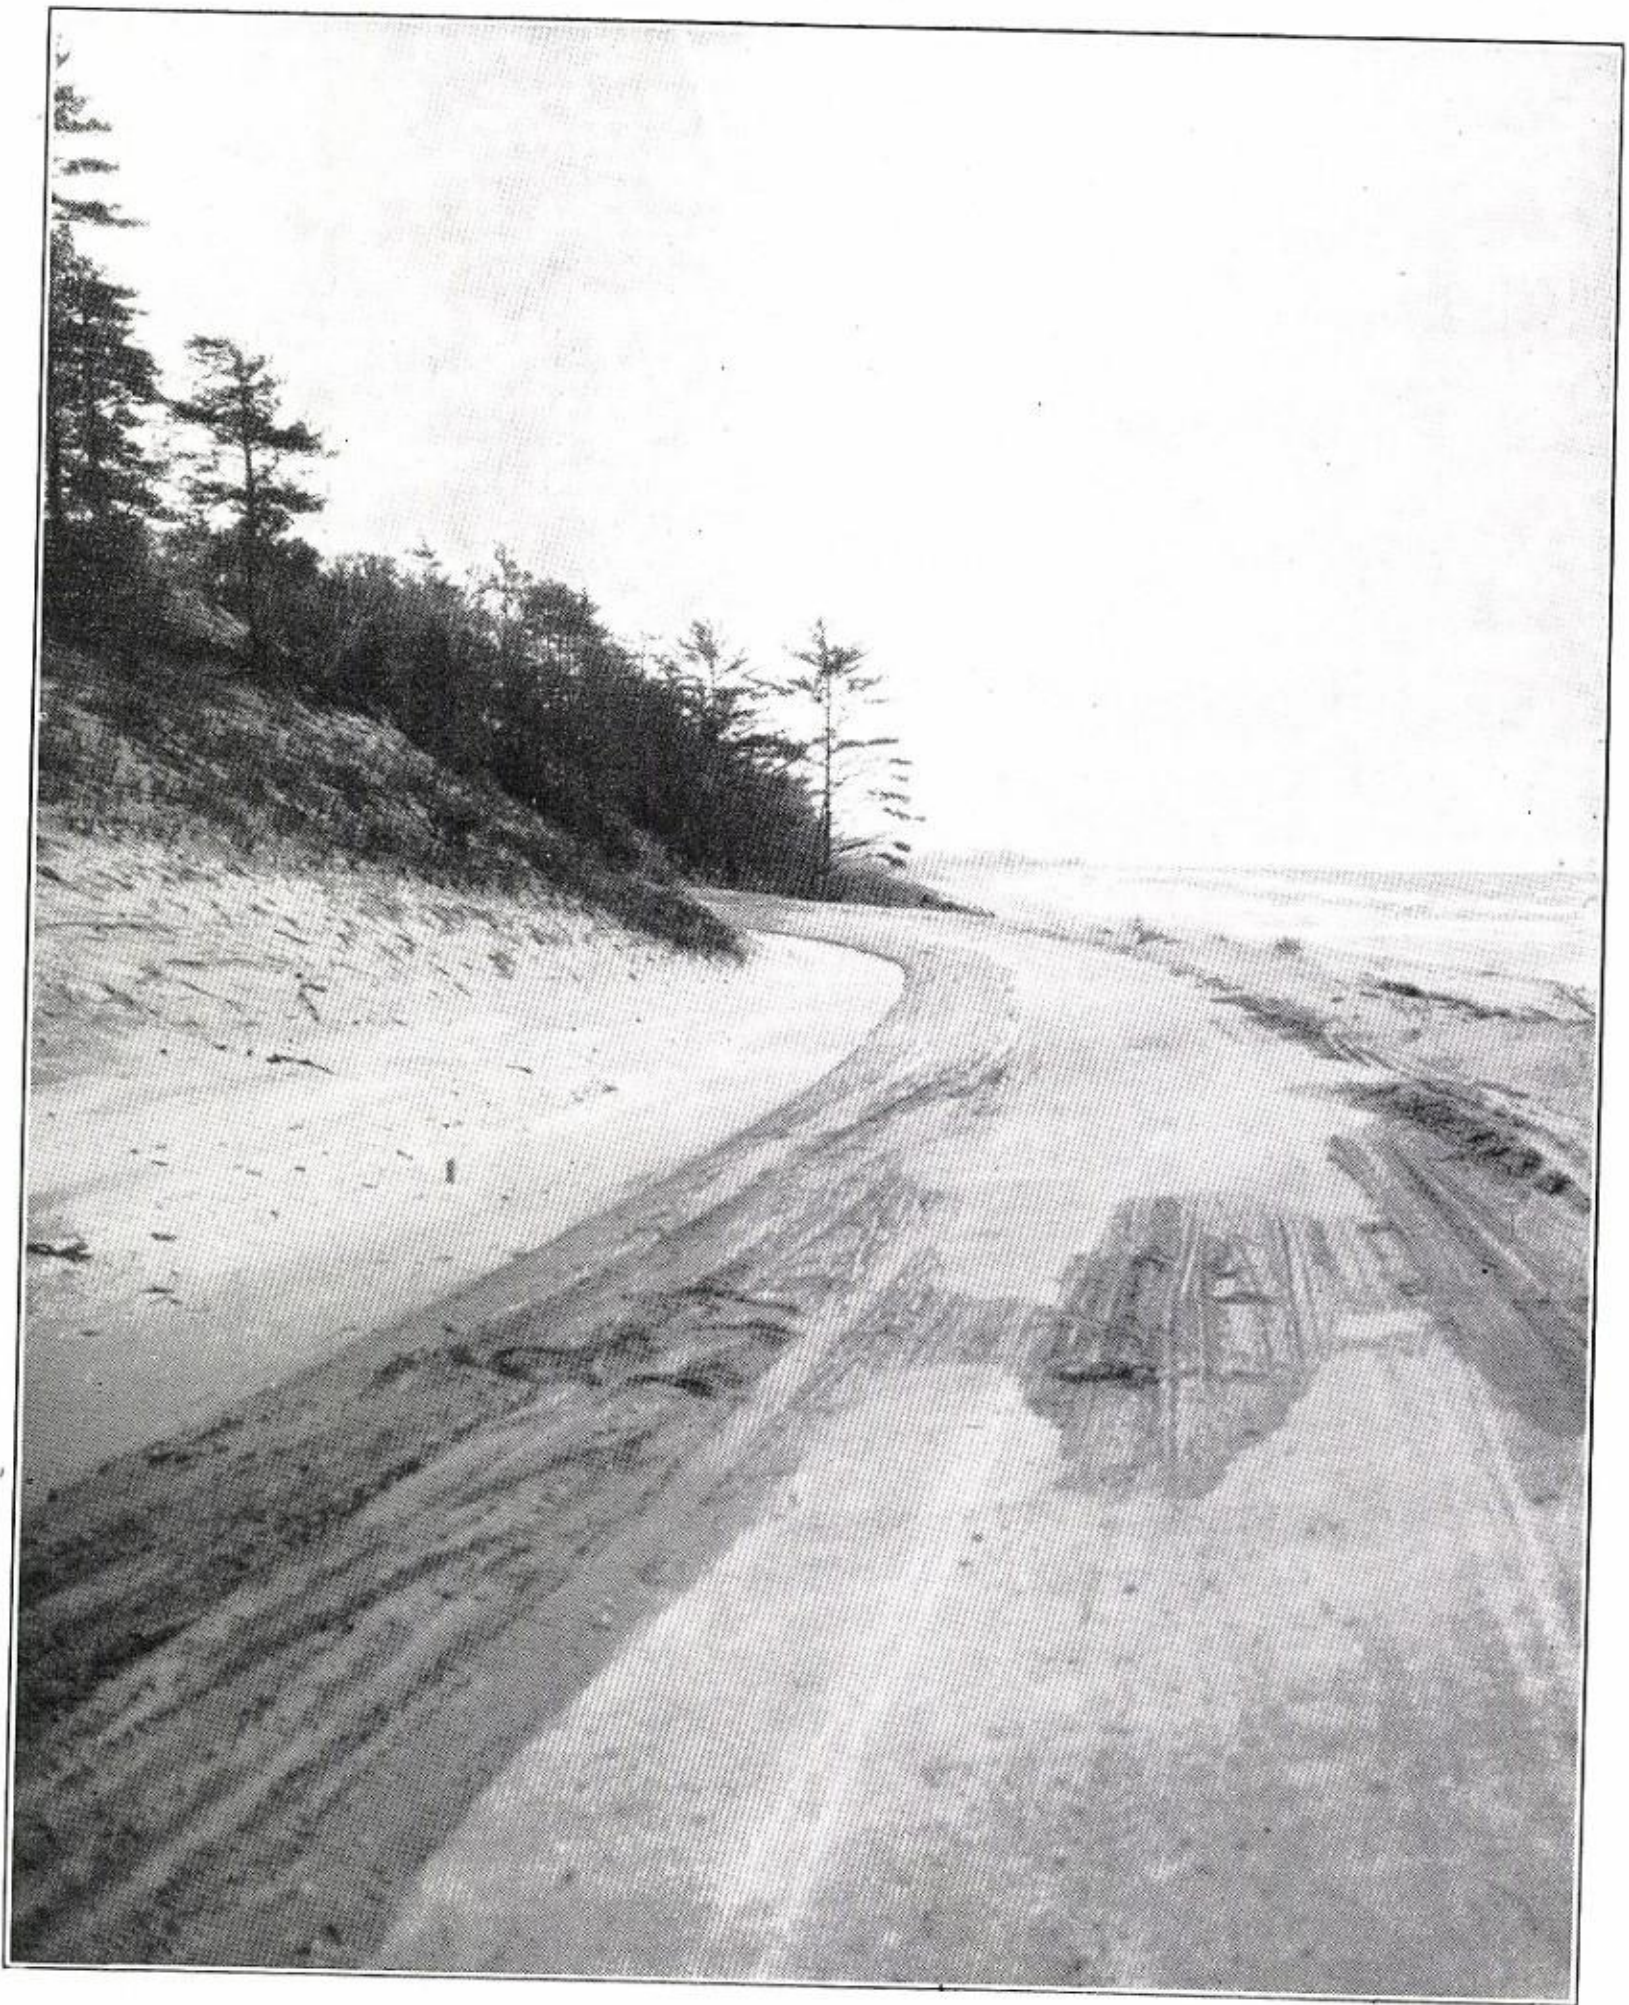

Bowling

Nearly 70 girls reported every Thursday at the Michigan Bowling Alleys for the girl's bowling tournament. The Rollerettes and the Gutterettes were tied for second place with 16 wins and 10 losses apiece. The Bluebirds and Strikettes were in a dead-lock for 3rd place with 15 wins and 11 losses. The following seniors reported for bowling: Kay Kimball, Jayce Etterman, Donna Siplon, Lorraine Erickson, Lavonne Blanchette, Caryl Radel, Kay Graves, Barbara Cochran, Barbara Buitendorp, Hazel Gudelsky, Donna Hilton, Helen Dykstra, Nina Van Eyck, Dorothy Farber, Fay Breen, Mary Lind Mulder, and Betty Shultz.

 Second row—Paul Cooper, Dick Peters, Don Scholten, Fred Wierengo, Joe Johnson, Marvin Bremer, Larry Nyblade, Jack Lindstrom.

12 A Graduating Committees

The following is a list of committees for June graduation activities. Committee chairmen will be held responsible for carrying out the duties of their committees and contacting their respective committee members. Committee operations should be taken care of as early in the semester as possible. There is much to do and time is surprisingly short. For questions about committee duties and direction in their execution contact the class president or either Miss Dorothy VanderKolk, room 209; or Mr. Cook, Room 311, class advisors. Note: Home room numbers are listed after committee members' names.

Home dreams come true

Yes, the time has come when many of you young folks are leaving high school days behind and beginning a new step in life. There are hundreds of vocations that you may choose from to build your career. But undoubtedly, no matter whether you decide to be an engineer, a barber, a housewife, or a merchant, each one of you will want a beautiful home—a home that fulfills the dreams and hopes you have treasured all through your school days.

It will be a pleasure for us to help you choose smart looking furniture for YOUR home—furniture designed to give you years of happy use, relaxation, comfort, enjoyment, and pride of ownership.

ALWAYS REMEMBER—when you better your HOME you better your LIVING.
